IS OUR HERITAGE

VIGOROUS, BOUNDING HEALTH OURS, SAYS DR. HUTCHINSON.

EAT WHAT YOU WANT

If Article of Food Does Not Agree With You Leave It Alone—A Domestic Science Lecture.

It was a pleasant, delightful experience to sit for an hour and a half and listen to one of the greatest physicians in the country stand up and declare in every paragraph that it is right food, right living and plenty of fresh air, tons of fresh air in fact, and all the good things to eat you want, that make and keep people well. And pleasanter still was his declaration that all the bad, horrible, bitter things too nasty to eat were made into medicine. And that stuff is supposed to make you well. It doesn't, though. It is something you happen to eat that you want, and which you have been told will kill you if you do eat it, that makes the cure.

Dr. Woods Hutchinson, the lecturer at the First Methodist church Thursday night, says that vigorous, bounding health is our rightful heritage, and that it is ours if we use our own instincts in regard to eating, eat the things we want, and if an article of food does not agree with us leave it alone, but do not conclude it is of no use or value to anyone else and try to cry it down, for that very article of food may be a means of health to some one else.

His lecture was in short a domestic science lecture of a very high order, given in a way that everyone could profit by, whether a student or not. He advocates a food balance regime for the body, and showed up the fallacy that certain foods build up one certain part of the body at the expense of other parts. Good food, in substantial varieties, fresh air and exercise and all the sleep one wants is the whole secret of a perfectly healthy body. An infallible test of what is good food is to throw it in the fire, and if it burns with a bright steady blaze, it is good. Beefsteak and bread will do this, but salads, pickles and meringue stuff will not; they are simply a matter of taste. But follow the things you like to eat and you will not go far wrong. Masticate well and do not eat a thing that does not agree with your sense of smell. There is no danger in following your noses in this respect. And eat plentifully—that is, until you have a comfortable feeling of distention and a sense of resistance, a knowledge that you are refreshed and ready for your work.

Sugar and good candy, and particularly chocolates, were advocated as most wholesome. Let the children have it and eat it yourself, especially when you cannot conveniently eat a meal when you want it. It is the most nourishing article one can take into the stomach at such a time. Sugar has great use in typhoid fever cases, and is now used so generously by many physicians that patients have come through a siege of it with the loss of only five, ten or twelve pounds in weight. Ice cream, butter and good bread came in for recommendation. All soups, he declared, beef tea and all, were nothing but hot water with a smell to it. The plentiful use of sugar and ice cream would destroy the craze for alcohol in time, he said.

The next number in the lecture course will be the Ernest Gambel Concert company on February 23. The company is now in the canal zone giving eighteen concerts for the United States government.

Dr. Clark will be here April 24.

Miss Gladys Beedle left Thursday morning for Hereford, Texas, to take a position as stenographer for the law firm of Knight & Slaton. She will make her home with her sister, Mrs. I. A. Cochell.

LECTURER HIS FRIEND.

Woods Hutchinson and Fred Jamison Brought Up Together—Had Not Met Before in 35 Years.

At the close of the lecture by Dr. Woods Hutchinson, the noted physician, at the First M. E. church Thursday night, Fred Jamison went to the front among others who went to greet the speaker, and when it came his turn he put out his hand and said:

"You don't know me, do you?"

With a quick look and movement Dr. Hutchinson grasped Mr. Jamison by the hand and laid his other hand on his friend's shoulder and said:

"Yes, I do. You're Jamison. Why, I haven't seen you before in thirty-five years. What are you doing here?"

And they continued their handshaking and smiled and grinned into each other's faces like a couple of boys. And they were boys again in the few moments that followed, and it was a pleasant sight to those who witnessed the meeting.

Woods Hutchinson and Fred Jamison grew up on adjoining farms near Oskaloosa, Ia., after Woods Hutchinson was 10 years old. When he was that age his father came from England with his family and bought the farm next to the Jamison farm. They hunted rabbits together, played ball and went to school together. Woods Hutchinson became one of the foremost physicians in this country, and Fred Jamison came to Nodaway county and is a farmer near Maryville, which is just as good. The Nodaway farmer is raising the very things the doctor told us was fit to eat, and he said we could have all we wanted, too, and there is no limit to the amount the Nodaway farmer can raise of those good things to eat. So there is no real difference between them.

THE GUEST OF MISS HOPE.

Mrs. McDaniel—Stearns of Indianapolis Came Friday and Will Speak Tonight at Christian Church.

Mrs. McDaniel-Stearns of Indianapolis, Ind., who will speak in the First Christian church Friday night, arrived in Maryville Friday noon and is the guest of her former pupil, Miss Fannie Hope of the Normal Training school. Mrs. Stearns was an instructor in the LaBetta county high school of Altamont, Kan., during Miss Hope's high school days there.

Mrs. Stearns' subject tonight will be "The Call of the World." Rev. Finch, pastor of the Maryville church, has heard Mrs. Stearns on this subject and is enthusiastic in his praise. It is acknowledged everywhere Mrs. Stearns has been heard that that she is one of the most eloquent and fascinating women on the public rostrum today.

The message she has for tonight is for everybody, and every woman in town is cordially invited to come and bring her husband or friend with her.

Mrs. Stearns' husband is pastor of the Centenary Christian church of Indianapolis.

It's Usual Market.

The fourth division of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Christian church will hold its usual market Saturday in the Quality Shop, on West Third street.

Miss Lida Ambrose of Arkoe was a shopper in Maryville Wednesday.

VOTE ON SUFFRAGE

MORE THAN HALF OF REQUIRED NAMES SECURED.

COME UP IN NOVEMBER

An Active Campaign Will Be Made in the State, Says Mrs. Walter McNab Miller of Columbia.

What Missouri Will Be Asked to Vote Upon.

The amendment to the Missouri constitution which the women expect to submit to the men of the state by an initiative petition follows.

"Females shall hereafter have the same right under the same conditions to vote at all elections held in this state as males now have or may hereafter have.

Missouri is bounded on the east by Illinois, a woman's suffrage state, and the west by Kansas, another equal suffrage state. It is the hope of the women of the Missouri Equal Suffrage association to make a white strip on the woman's suffrage map from Indiana to Utah.

Mrs. Walter McNab Miller of Columbia is president of the association and the state headquarters are here. Mrs. C. K. Burdick is corresponding secretary. The work of the local organization is directed by these two Columbia women from their room in the Miller building.

Initiative petitions are being circulated in two-thirds of the congressional districts of the state now. More than half of the required 23,000 names have been secured and the women are sure that Missouri will vote on the question of equal suffrage next November.

"Many people have a wrong idea of woman's suffrage," said Mrs. Miller. "Missouri women are not seeking the ballot through any antagonism to man. We feel that the men have had too much to do in the past. We have been asking our husbands to earn the living and at the same time to carry all the burden of public life.

"We are not entering the work as a fad or for gain. Every worker in the organization is voluntary. The number of college women in our association is an example of the type of women who are leading the campaign. We see in the present industrial conditions that some women have too much leisure and others have none at all. It is our hope that we will be able to help make these conditions better. It is our ideal to live in a nation where sweatshops are impossible and child labor unknown."

The women are students of sociology and economics. In their circulating library are books by John Stuart Mill, Jane Addams and other well known writers.

After the initiative petitions have been filed and accepted, a campaign similar to that of a political party will be used. The women will have their county and township chairmen. There will be ward and precinct captains. Speakers will be brought into Missouri from all the other states. There will be automobile tours and booths at all county fairs.—University Missourian.

Barnard to Have Another Bank.

The stockholders of the new bank will meet the first of next week for the purpose of being sworn to the duties of the bank. They appointed a committee of three to locate a place for the bank the last time they met. They decided on the I. O. O. F. building, which was leased for ten years. J. C. Hocker, who came here from California is the promoter of the new bank, and will be the cashier. Mr. Hocker is fully capable of handling the business as he has had years of experience in the bank at Guilford.

The bank will be called the Farmers and Merchants bank, and will open for business on or about March 1.—Barnard Bulletin.

A marriage license was issued Friday to Winifred V. White and Eliza D. Walker, both of Darlington.

SHOULD SEND BOY

BY NODAWAY COUNTY TO AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

$160 NEEDED TO DO IT

And People Should Respond Heartily—The Democrat-Forum Will Start List With $5—Who's Next?

Nodaway county should be one of the counties in the state to send a poor farmer boy to the agricultural college in Columbia. Such a movement was started recently by the St. Louis Republic, and enough money was raised by that paper to send thirteen boys to the state college. Other counties throughout the state have also followed the suggestion of the Republic and are now raising money for that purpose. Such counties are Boone, Callaway, Audrain and Ripley.

The expense of sending a boy to the agricultural college for a year, according to the Republic's figures, totals $160. This includes tuition and laboratory fees at $35, board $80, and room rent at $45.

In return for this scholarship the boy should agree to remain in the county at least for five years after he had finished his course. This would help stay the exodus which is made every year from different sections of the state.

The boy to be selected might be chosen from among farmers' sons by competition carried on by a committee on lines laid down by the college of agriculture.

As the Republic says. "In the last census decade seventy-two Missouri counties lost population. The only remedy for this threatening movement is better farming. The only way to secure better farming is by training better farmers. And every efficient farmer is the unconscious trainer of a hundred farmers about him."

Nodaway county should finance more than one young man for an educational equipment that will at the end of his course make him a vastly more benefit to his county that several times the dollars that may be subscribed. No extended argument is necessary to convince any citizen or business man that the cause is a worthy one.

What do you think of this better farming movement of educating a boy in the methods of scientific farming who otherwise would not have an opportunity of learning the new way of doing things on the farm?

The Democrat-Forum is willing to receive subscriptions here for such a purpose and will head the list by giving $5. The Commercial club will also favor the proposition, according to several members seen today.

Send in your subscription now, and no sum is too large or too small to donate.

BASKET BALL GAME TONIGHT.

Missouri Wesleyan College Plays the Normal team This Evening at Gymnasium.

Missouri Wesleyan college basket ball team will arrive in Maryville this afternoon for their game this evening. Last night they played in Tarkio and were defeated, 29 to 17. Wesleyan always has a big team and they expect to win this evening.

Maryville will have four of their regular players in the game tonight. Quinn will be out of the game on account of his knee, but it is expected he will be in the game next week. Powell is doing good work at center and will make Quinn hurry for his position at the rate he is now going.

The line-up for Maryville will be Vandersloot, F. Watson, F. Powell, C. Scott, G. McReynolds, G. Miller. Noblett and Gooden will be used in case any changes are made. Hanson of St. Joseph will referee.

Seating accommodations will be provided for 250 people and there is good standing room for over 100 more. The Normal students will all be on the lower floor of the gymnasium and the entire balcony will be turned over to the citizens of Maryville. A large crowd is expected.

MOST FARM HOMES UNFIT.

A Rebuke to Our Civilization, Government Expert Says.

Washington, Jan. 29.—That the average farm home in the United States is a rebuke to America's boasted civilization is the conclusion reached by the farm architect of the department of agriculture as a result of extended investigation of the subject.

In a statement today the department emphasized the importance of an economically constructed and comfortable home for the farmer, the most important feature of which should be the kitchen. Attention is called to the fact that the average farm home has failed to share in the improvement being made in agricultural conditions. Relatively, it is declared, the housewife of a century ago, with her fireplace cooking and log cabin, was better provided for than is the housewife of today.

As a result of the public awakening to the fact that better farm houses are needed the department of agriculture, through its office of farm management, is now investigating this problem systematically and to evolve, if possible, practical improvements for the benefit of the farmer.

BURIAL AT GUILFORD.

Former Woman of That Place Died Thursday at Her Home in St. Joseph—Funeral Friday.

The body of Mrs. Davis Walls, who died Thursday morning at her home in St. Joseph, was brought to Guilford, her former home, Friday morning for burial. The funeral services were held at the South Methodist church in Guilford. Burial in Graves cemetery. Mrs. Walls was a sister of Mrs. Joseph Cayton of near Guilford.

To Come to Maryville.

James Stewart, who has been employed in the A. W. Bear store for over a quarter of a century, has decided to abandon the old stand for a more profitable one in Maryville. He has accepted a position with Raines Brothers. They expect to leave about the first of the month.

Every one here is very sorry to hear of their decision, as Mr. and Mrs. Stewart are among Barnard's most highly esteemed, and it will be some time before the people here will become reconciled.—Barnard Bulletin.

DR. D. J. EVANS, TH. D., D. D., Dean of Theological School of William Jewell College, at Liberty, Mo.

Dr. Evans arrived in Maryville Friday noon and is at the Linville hotel. He will be the principal speaker at the Men's club banquet this Friday evening at the First Baptist church.

Mrs. Rehberg Suit Against Wabash—A Section of the Law in Regard to Baggage.

The case of Mrs. Dorothea Rehburg of Clyde against the Wabash Railroad company for $688.50 damages for the loss of a trunk and telescope and contents, came up in circuit court Friday morning. There were many witnesses in the case from Clyde and vicinity. The trunk and telescope and contents were supposed to have been burned up in the fire that destroyed the Conception Junction depot several months ago.

After the case had started, the attorneys for the railroad company brought up a section of the law of 1913, which states that no railroad or common carrier shall be held liable for $150 damage loss and injury to property carried as baggage unless they have a written receipt stating the value. This point was brought out after Mrs. Rehburg had testified that she had no receipt giving the value of the trunk and contents.

The court then instructed the jury to bring in a verdict for the plaintiff for $150, which was done by a jury composed of Thomas Tobin, M. C. Gray, Walter Campbell, Joe Wallace, Rudolph Lebonia, Charles Talbott, Robert Kinman, John McKee, George Daniels, E. S. Frampton, L. A. Nigh and Charles Eckert.

For the information of the traveling public, the section is as follows:

"Every common carrier and railroad corporation shall be liable for loss, damage and injury to property carried as baggage up to the full value and regardless of the character thereof, but the value in excess of one hundred and fifty dollars shall be stated upon delivery to the carrier, and a written receipt stating the value shall be issued by the carrier, who may make a reasonable charge for the assumption of such liability in excess of one hundred and fifty dollars and for the carriage of baggage exceeding one hundred and fifty pounds in weight upon a single ticket. Nothing in this section shall deprive any holder of such receipt or bill of lading of any remedy or right of action which he has under existing laws."

James Mulholland pleaded guilty to the charge of gaming and was fined $200 and costs, but was paroled by the court for good cause shown upon the payment of $25 of the fine and costs.

In the case of Robert Wachtel vs S. B. Harmon, replevin suit, settled, defendant in open court waives damages on replevin bond and costs paid by the plaintiff.

Charles Still pleaded guilty as to gaming and was fined $25. For good cause shown, he was paroled upon the payment of the costs.

Roy Mayes pleaded guilty as to gaming and was fined $25. Gor good cause shown he was paroled on the payment of the costs.

Ike Weddle, Jr., seven counts, charged with gaming, pleaded guilty and fined $25 on each count. For good cause shown and upon the payment of the fine of $25 in the first case and the costs in each of the seven cases, he was paroled.

The case of the state vs. Sherman Munn on a charge of assault with intent to kill was continued by agreement.

Frank Scull, charged with gaming and running a common gaming house, last charge changed to gaming, pleaded guilty and was fined $200 in each case.

The following other gaming cases came up Friday, each one of them receiving a fine of $25:

C. E. Dilley, Ed Lane, Aiden Owens, Jack Hager, Frank Rasco, Frank Job, Ed Adkins, Frank Crowdes.

In the gaming cases of Roland Pruett, five counts; Ira Gates, seven counts; Jesse Colter, four counts; Roy Reece, three counts; Dale Gates, five counts; Clarence Rhoades, five counts; Mark Adkins, five counts, they were fined $25 on each count. For good cause shown they were all paroled on the payment of the fines in the first cases and the costs in each of the cases. The condition of the parole is not to handling or playing cards, not to drink nor loaf.

Waffles, waffles, waffles. Have some at the Borrusch building Saturday evening.

KEEP YOUR MIND ALERT.

Remedy for Boredom in Your Hands.

One of the saddest things that can happen to anyone is for him to lose interest; to lose the sense of the adventure of life, to grow blind to its wonders and varieties.

Some people never have the power of being thoroughly interested, even under circumstances the most unusual. And few manage to keep it through what comes to seem the humdrums of ordinary existence. Yet of all the gifts possible for use, there is none that is more certain to make life full and worth while to you than this capacity for keeping interested.

Life itself is never dull; on the contrary, it is always extraordinary. Only we cease to be aware of it. Having eyes we see not, having ears we hear not. We deny our faculty for feeling, our desire for understanding. We do not let our imagination have half the exercises it asks and should have—and then we grumble at the dullness of the world!

There is nothing easier than to allow this apathy to increase. Most of us who are on a regular job have to follow a routine. Yet within even this customary circle of circumstances and events a world of small difference occur—enough to keep us thoroughly interested if we watch for and appreciate them.

The dullard claims that life is no more than a series of meals, a sleep at the end of the day, a tiresome sequence of getting dressed and undressed, of seeing a few people, and speaking the same words in various combinations.

But if your mind is alert and your senses keen life ought to grow more interesting year by year. You become more able to discover all its strangeness as you grow riper, to perceive its odd combinations and unexpected developments.

There is always something new. Keep your eyes open for it. And remember, if you find yourself getting easily bored, that the fault is entirely your own. Make an effort at once to escape. Take up a new line of thought, a new study or duty or amusement. One girl I know, feeling herself "growing dopy" as she expressed it, happened to come across Maeterlinck's "Life of the Bee." She lived in the suburbs, and had a tiny garden attached to the house. So she provided herself with a hive of bees, and set to work to study them during her off time. They proved intensely interesting; she soon found herself subscribing for bee magazines, and she had entered a whole new world of interest through the tiny doorway of the hive because she refused to shut herself up in the prison of boredom. And there is no limit to the number of such doors that are open to us, ready at our least touch, if only we are willing to exert it.

Refuse to grow dull—it is far worse than growing old, and the remedy is in your own hands.—Selected.

In reply to Mr. Thomas J. Tallon in The Democrat-Forum of January 28, I wish to state a few facts gathered from various sections of the United States which may serve to convince the reader that Mr. Tallon does not base his reasoning on real facts and conditions as they exist. First, consolidation means equal rights to all.

In the early days the country school and teacher was equal in every way to the town school, but conditions have changed to such an extent that the present conditions in the country are a disgrace to the twentieth century.

Small schools that now exist not only waste the people's money but the children's time. In communities where consolidation has prevailed, attendance has increased from 55 per cent to 97 per cent. Consolidation is not a fad, but the only solution.

Massachusetts passed a consolidation law in 1865, and twelve Concord schools united in 1870-80.

Thirty-two states and Hawaii, Canada and Australia have consolidation. It has been thoroughly tried and has proven more than satisfactory. It has, wherever tried, resulted in economy, better, supervision, attendance, punctuality, school spirit and better roads, literary organizations and local enterprises.

Land has uniformly advanced from 50 to 200 per cent in value wherever adopted. Maine abandoned 653 small schools in 1890. Vermont transferred 800 children. All over the middle west the sentiment is growing stronger every day. It is the only way to educate suitable to the present age. Ohio has twenty-one consolidated schools in one county and 157 in the state. Indiana transports 20,000 children each year. Michigan had ten consolidated schools in 1908. Iowa has thirty. Minnesota, North Dakota, Kansas and Oklahoma are making wonderful advances. Virginia had 162 consolidated schools in 1908.

Without exception the greatest educators in the United States are strongly endorsing the idea of bringing the children together in numbers sufficient to insure perfect graduation and placing them under the care of professionally trained men and women, who will do the same high class of teaching that is prevalent in the city schools. It will result in more rapid progress, better lessons, more pleasant surroundings, better sanitation, a more extended course.

Sentiment, as objections, must finally yield to economic advantages.

Statistics from the many states that have tried consolidation prove that it saves the people money—that the individual cost per pupil is much less than under the present system.

A very large per cent of the present country schools are so poorly instructed that they had as well be abandoned as continued. In the face of all the argument that floods the country in favor of consolidation, it seems evident that all who have the interest of the country children at heart would do everything to create a sentiment favoring better schools and better teaching.

Then and not until then will come a bright dawn for the youth of the farm.

J. P. CUMMINGS.

To the Voters of the Proposed Consolidated Districts.

On Saturday, January 24, in the court house yard, in the presence of Reuben Young and Thomas F. Tallon, the Rev. Green of the Harmony church promised me that I would be allowed to present to the voters our side of the consolidation of schools on the same night that the state superintendent of schools was to speak there, January 28. I was there on that date prepared to present our side of the question to the best of my ability, and was turned down flat and refused any chance to speak against consolidation. This is about on a par with the treatment that section 18 has received all through this controversy. We have been set out from the rest of the district, our new school house taken from us, eight children in this section forced to go from three-fourths to a mile farther to school than they have at present. And further, the voters of section 18 are disfranchised from saying anything about what shall become of the property they have paid taxes to build and support.

Now is this honest? Is this justice? Is this right between man and man?

If it is, go and vote for consolidation; if not, vote against it.

Let the Casteel district alone. We are able to take care of ourselves. If our district could vote by itself there would be three votes against to one for. If you want those for consolidation, take them and let the rest of the district alone.

Yours for right and justice,

FRED L. ARMSTRONG.

To the Voters of Harmony.

My attention was drawn to an article in The Democrat-Forum in which it was stated that the community of Harmony is to vote on consolidation of schools next Monday, and that the districts that are in the proposed move for consolidation are Excelsior, Champaign, Wilcox, Casteel, Moore, and one-half of Hickory Hill. This gives the impression that the Casteel school district had all been taken into the proposed consolidated district, which is not correct, as boosters for consolidation would have you believe. Here is the actual state of affairs in the Casteel district: The boosters for consolidation have taken into the proposed new district about four-fifths of this district, including the school house, and there are eight children of school age in the territory they have taken in. The remaining one-fifth, which is section 18, has eleven children of school age, and was left out as undesirable territory, and they say that, according to the law, the parents of those eleven children have no voice in this matter; or in other words they say we are going to take your school away from your children and you can't help yourself. Now, I wish to appeal to the voters of Harmony community in behalf of those helpless children who cannot defend themselves against this injustice. In other words, will you not say with your vote that those children have just the same right to their school that your own children have? Will you not say with that ballot which you are going to cast on the 2nd day of February, do unto others as you would have others do unto you. All I ask for those helpless children is justice. THOMAS F. TALLON.

HYOMEI SOOTHES, PURIFIES, HEALS CATARRH ILLS

When you have that choked and stuffed up feeling in the morning, crusts in the nose, raising of mucous, droppings in the throat, and offensive breath, you are affected with catarrh. Immediate steps should be taken to stop the disease or it will become chronic and serious.

By all means use Hyomei. Money refunded by the Orear-Henry Drug Co. if not satisfied. It is a medicated air treatment that does not drug and derange the stomach, but is breathed in through the Hyomei inhaler that comes with every $1.00 outfit. It effectively destroys the catarrh germs and quickly soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane of the nose and throat.

Get a complete outfit now and be cured of catarrh.

Miss Besse Scott returned Friday noon from Kansas City, where she was the guest of friends at the lumbermen's convention. She sang two numbers in the Wednesday morning session of the convention, "Mavourneen," an Irish love song, by L. Lemon, and "Goodbye Summer," by Frank Lyons. On Thursday afternoon Miss Scott sang at a reception at the Baltimore hotel, given by the ladies of the convention. Her numbers were "A Perfect Day," by Carrie Jacobs-Bond, and "Sympathy," from the opera "Firefly." At the Orpheum theater Thursday evening Miss Scott was a member of one of the box parties given by the lumbermen for their wives and friends.

AFTER FIVE YEARS

Winthrop Child Was Restored to Health by Vinol.

"Five years ago our little girl had a severe attack of diphtheria which left her subject to bronchitis and stomach trouble. She has been almost constantly under medical treatment. I have tried also two or three remedies containing cod liver oil but found her stomach rebelled against the oil. Reading your description of Vinol I decided to try it and did so with most astonishing results. I cannot begin to tell you how she has improved because you do not know what a little sufferer she was for five years. She has gained ten pounds since she commenced to take Vinol, and the story of what Vinol has done for her is only half told in this letter."—Mrs. Adelaide Mulloy, Winthrop, Mass.

Vinol contains all the healing curative properties of cod liver oil, without the oil, and tonic iron added. That is why it helped this little girl after other remedies had failed.

We ask mothers of weak, sickly children to try Vinol on our offer to give back your money if it fails to help them. Orear-Henry Drug Co., Maryville, Mo.—Advertisement.

Stole Chickens.

Some time last Friday night a chicken thief stole a bunch of chickens from Judd Henry, north of Sweet Home. The thief brought the chickens to Ravenwood in a coop and sold them to the J. C. Peterson poultry house, during Mr. Peterson's absence. Virgil Moore, who was working there at the time, weighed the chickens and made out a check for $13.49 to the man, who gave his name as Dan McCroy. Mr. Henry missing his chickens, came in and found them at the poultry house still in the same coop that they had been brought in. Mr. Peterson being satisfied that they were the same chickens stolen from Mr. Henry, gave them back to him. All efforts to catch the thief so far have been in vain.—Ravenwood Gazette.

CHILDREN HATE OIL, CALOMEL AND PILLS

"California Syrup of Figs" Best for Tender Stomach, Liver, Bowels —Tastes Delicious.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Advertisement.

Making Fence Posts Last.

Does it pay to treat fence posts with a preservative in order to make them last longer? Is it possible to treat cottonwood, elm, sycamore or basswood posts so that they will last as long as a good white oak or black locust post does without treatment? The Missouri college of agriculture has started an experiment which will help to answer these questions.

On November 20, 1913, the forestry department set the last of 533 posts representing 27 different kinds of wood. The posts were set two feet apart on a level piece of land, where soil and moisture conditions are the same for all. Posts of each species of wood were handled in seven different ways. Some were set in the ordinary way without treatment of any kind. These will serve as a check. Some were set in gravel, so as to test the benefit, if any, from having better drainage around the post. Others had the lower three feet charred. Another series were given two brush coats of hot creosote, spreading it over the lower three feet. A fifth series was given on brush coat of hot carbolineum. The sixth series was treated with creosote by the open tank method described in circular 51 of the experiment station. The same method was followed with the seventh series, except that the posts were soaked in creosote for two and one-half hours in each bath.

So the long distance race is on! Missouri farmers will be interested in watching this test of endurance.

The Democrat-Forum at Maryville was badly informed about the basket ball games that took place here on last Friday evening. They said that the Graham boys won the game 50 to 35, when it was just the reverse. They also said that the ex-normal team played the first team here and won the game. It was the second team here that played the ex-normals, and the latter won the game. Don't put anything up against Guilford if you don't want to get beat.—Guilford Times.

MANY IN ATTENDANCE.

Funeral Services for Mrs. Chester Bennett Held Thursday Afternoon at the First M. E. Church.

The First M. E. church was filled Thursday afternoon with friends and acquaintances of the late Mrs. Chester Bennett, who in deep sorrow gathered to attend her funeral services.

The services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Gilbert S. Cox, who used the text as found in I Cor. 13:12. "For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then, face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known." The sermon was full of comfort to all, for it led all to trust in the providences of God that seem dark and ipscrutible, for it is safe to trust one who does all things well; whose ways are higher than our ways, and His thoughts than our thoughts.

Mrs. F. P. Robinson sang "Some Day We'll Understand." A quartet composed of Mrs. Robinson, Miss Ada Clayton, John Mutz and G. Matter, sang "Rock of Ages" and "Abide With Me."

The floral offerings were so many that the beautiful young wife and mother appeared to be lying in a bed of flowers. The flower girls were Miss Marie Brink, Miss Lavera Condon and Mrs. Dale Bellows.

Burial took place in Miriam cemetery. The pall bearers were Frank M. Reavis, John Mutz, Dale Bellows, Fred Lewis, L. B. Tracey and Lieber Holmes.

The Royal Neighbors and Hum Drum club, of which Mrs. Bennett's mother, Mrs. Harry Shipps, and sister, Miss Blanche Shipps, are members, attended the services in a body.

The out-of-town relatives and friends attending the services were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fritchman of Rosendale, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Fritchman and Mr. and Mrs. Clay Fritchman of Savannah; Warner Wood of Polckow, Mrs. Charles Shipps of Arkoe, Mrs. F. H. Badger of Barnard, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Smith, Misses Golda and Louise Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Langhein and Neal Bayne of St. Joseph, Mrs. Ed Housman of Rosendale.

Bernice Shipps Bennett was born on a farm in Nodaway county, twelve miles from Maryville, December 9, 1890, making her a little past 23 years of age. When she was 12 years old she came with her parents to Maryville to make her home. She graduated from the Maryville high school with the mid-winter class of 1909. She taught two terms of school in the High Prairie district, near Elmo and on the 25th day of May, 1911, was married to Chester Bennett, with the Acetylene Light company of this city.

Mrs. Bennett had been a constant worker and member of the First Christian church in Bible school and Endeavor since childhood, and for six years had been pipe organist for the Endeavor and Bible school, and her whole life was in harmony with her profession as a Christian. The expression of her face was calm and serene, the "outward sign of inward grace," and after the coming of her baby daughter her spiritual life seemed renewed and all her thought was toward the rearing of her child in right ways. As soon as the baby was old enough to be taken to Sunday school she affiliated with the First M. E. church, last September, to be with her husband, that their child should not come up in a divided household. She continued her work as organist faithfully with the church of her childhood until the Sunday before her new relation began. She began at once to take a place in all the work of the First M. E. church, uniting with the Young Ladies' Missionary society and enrolling in the Sunday school. She was a true follower of the Master, and was ready to work in whatever field she was called to go.

Her illness came suddenly. All that medical aid could do for her was done. But the disease of uremic poisoning had gained too much headway for medicine to successfully combat. Pneumonia set in twenty-four hours before death, completely overthrowing her chances for recovery.

The sympathy of the entire community is with her husband and ten-months-old daughter, Virginia Katherine, her parents, sisters and brother in their loss.

Predicted to Be President.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Monroe of Hopkins announce the birth of a son Monday, January 26. The young man has been named James Harbine, and while he resembles his mother's people, the Wray family, he already begins to show the disposition of his father.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe are receiving the hearty congratulations of their friends, and of course there are numerous predictions as to the young man's future. Some are prophecying he will be a Methodist preacher, others that he will be either a banker or postmaster, while we are predicting that the next Democratic president will be in 1964, and it will be James H. Monroe of Missouri.

SHERLEY ASSAILS ANNUAL WAR SCARE

Kentuckian Opens Debate on Fortifications Bill in House.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Representative Sherley of Kentucky, in presenting the fortifications bill to the house for general debate, assailed representations of the unpreparedness for war and "the annual war scare."

Mr. Sherley referred particularly to Rear Admiral Vreeland's opinion given to the naval affairs committee that the United States was not in a position to defend the Philippines.

"I can assure the house that our fortifications are in no such condition of unpreparedness as to cause alarm," said Mr. Sherley. "As to the Philippines, the island of Corregidor, commanding the entrance to Manila bay, has been completely and strongly fortified and it is in a position to withstand attack for six months without assistance from the outside."

Mr. Sherley referred to field artillery ammunition, for which the war department has demanded larger appropriations.

"If we contemplated taking the field in a war that would require an army of 500,000 within the next year or two," said he, "then the appropriation of $90,000 for field artillery ammunition in this bill is not sufficient. It should be several millions. But if we don't expect a great war for five or ten years, then the present provision is ample and generous."

YOUNG WOMAN SAVES TRAIN

Dora Shafer Prevents Passenger From Plunge Through Bridge.

Greeley, Colo., Jan. 30.—Damage estimated at $200,000 was done by the breaking of the dam of the Horse creek reservoir, sending a flood of water over the flats, inundating a strip of land ten miles long by three miles wide, and a torrent down Box Elder creek.

The quick action of Dora Shafer saved a Burlington train from plunging through a weakened bridge. She telephoned to Hudson and the train was flagged.

BANK HEARING AT SEATTLE

Not Enough Capital on Upper Pacific Slope for Regional Bank.

Seattle, Jan. 30.—A question repeatedly asked by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo of witnesses before the regional reserve board, who urged the formation in either Seattle or Spokane of a Pacific northwest regional reserve bank, to cover the states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana, was: "How will you get around the fact that the district you have laid out here will not provide the requisite amount of capital required by the currency bill?"

The law, as interpreted by Secretary McAdoo and Secretary Houston, provides that each bank in the district shall subscribe 6 per cent of its capital stock toward the capital of the regional reserve bank. Six per cent of the total capital of the national banks of the four states named amounts to $2,500,000, whereas the law fixes a minimum of $4,000,000 for the company of each regional bank.

An offer of leading Seattle bankers to subscribe a large block of capital stock was rejected by the secretaries, who said that state banks could not subscribe to the capital stock so long as they were under disabilities imposed by state laws.

Chicago Buys Garbage Reduction Plant

Chicago, Jan. 30.—This city, which has been dumping its hundreds of tons of garbage into clay pits all winter and trying various experiments in treating it with acids, bought the garbage reduction plant which formerly handled the refuse by private contract. The property was acquired by condemnation for $275,000.

Taggart Not Candidate for Senate.

Indianapolis, Jan. 30.—After two days of conferences with political leaders, Thomas Taggart, Indiana's member of the Democratic national committee, issued a statement that he would not be a candidate for the United States senate. Mr. Taggart said he would support Senator Shively for re-election.

MR. STORK LED GRIM REAPER.

Figures Show Births in Missouri for Last Quarter of 1913 Were More Than the Deaths.

According to statistics compiled by U. A. McBride, chief statistician of the bureau of vital statistics of the state board of health for the quarter including the months of October, November and December, there was a total of 9,914 deaths, of which 5,422 were males, 4,492 females, 9,104 white and 810 black. The births show a falling off of 147 as compared with the preceding quarter, while there is a decrease in deaths of 296.

There was a total of 19,326 births in the state for the quarter; 9,988 were males and 9,412 females. It will be noted there were 9,412 more births than death for the period, indicating that "Mr. Stork" is keeping well advanced of the grim reaper.

CANADA.

If you have a desire to be independent and own your own farm, you can do so for less yearly payment than you are paying rent in Missouri.

If you wish to make a good investment, Canada holds a better opportunity open to you than you will find in any undeveloped country in the world today.

Our first excursion to see this wonderful country will be some time in April, and our rates as low as can be procured. We will show you land in Saskatchewan and Eastern Alberta, priced from $12.00 to $25.00 per acre, convenient to railroads and good markets. Land that will give wonderful returns for the amount invested, and the terms cannot fail to please you.

This is an opportunity that you cannot afford to miss as we will see the best parts of Canada.

Write us or come in and have a talk about this wonderful country of big returns, where a man with small capital can become independent in a few years.

WILSON WARNS THE NEWSPAPERS

Deplores Unwarranted Speculation on Foreign Subjects.

Washington, Jan. 30.—In outlining the status of those problems of American diplomacy which have been brought to public attention by his recent conference with the senate committee on foreign relations, President Wilson reiterated with emphasis that no crisis was at hand in any of the questions he had discussed unless the Mexican situation could be construed as in the nature of perpetual crisis, fraught always with the possibility of sudden change or unexpected developments.

In divulging some of the more important facts concerning American foreign policy the president sounded a warning against unwarranted speculation in the press on foreign questions, indicating that governments frequently were embarrassed by unfounded reports.

The administration's Mexican policy for the present would be one of watchful waiting was reiterated by President Wilson. No prediction was made as to when the lifting of the embargo on arms might occur.

It was conceded at the White House that the practical operation of the embargo had been to deny munitions to the constitutionalists from their only external source of supply, while the Huerta government has been buying abroad.

The president has pointed out that while nations generally were showing a friendly spirit and doing all they could to prevent assistance to the Huerta regime, foreign governments could not legally stop shipments of arms. Special legislation would be required.

TRUST POLICY IS UNDER FIRE

Republican Senators Rap "Beneficent Sunshine" Program.

CUMMINS IS DISCOURAGED.

Bristow Declares Stock of Corporations Is Rising Continually While Gentle Process of Dealing With Them Is Being Inaugurated.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The trust policy of the Democratic administration was characterized by Republicans during debate in the senate as "beneficent sunshine," enhancing the stock of corporations. The policy of amicable agreements with accused corporations also was criticised by minority speakers.

While hearings on the pending anti-trust bills were under way before the house judiciary committee, Senator Martine (N. J.) interjected into a senate discussion on agricultural extension the announcement that there existed in the United States an oatmeal trust. Senator Cummins (Ia.), admitting that such a trust probably did exist, asked the New Jersey senator if any proceedings were pending to punish the officers of the combine.

"I do not know whether there are any immediate steps being taken to prosecute," Senator Martine replied, "but I do know it is part of the policy of the Democratic party to go for the trusts, and we will go for them, dealing with them fairly, honestly and justly, but not tenderly nor kindly."

Cummins Discouraged.

"I hope it is the plan of the Democratic party to destroy monopoly," Senator Cummins rejoined, "but I must confess that the plan is being carried out with a deliberateness that discourages me. I hope we shall speedily reach the oatmeal trust where it can be dealt with. We are going very slowly, however, and I have no great confidence in the effort to readjust industrial conditions in the administrative offices of the government.

"There is but one way to punish a man for having violated the law and that is to bring him before the bar of a court and, finding him guilty, punish him. I have not much faith in these preliminary negotiations and these quiet adjustments that seem to have been favored not only in a former administration, but in this one as well."

Senator McCumber said that all he could learn of the Democratic trust policy was from the newspapers, which announced that the trusts were to be gone after, but that the party "is dealing gently, going very quietly and telling the trusts to have no fear of being hurt."

"While this gentle process of dealing with trusts is being inaugurated," remarked Senator Bristow (Kan.), "the stock of these corporations is continually rising under this beneficent sunshine of the present trust policy."

LANE ATTACKS REPORT

Green and Lamar Get Into Debate in the Senate.

Washington, Jan. 30.—David Lamar got into the senate debate again and was openly referred to by Senator Newlands as "the wolf of Wall street." Senator Lane was criticising Mr. Newlands' committee for refusing to hear testimony by William H. Green of Creighton, Neb., on his resolution to inquire whether the United States Steel corporation had received illegal rebates from railroads.

The committee, when it developed that Green refused to testify unless he could name a certain attorney to make the investigation, amended Mr. Lane's resolution for transmission to Attorney General McReynolds and the interstate commerce commission merely for information.

Senator Lane attacked the committee's report as partial and incomplete and declared the system of executive sessions furnished "legislative rat holes down which the rights of the people disappear." Mr. Newlands quoted Green as having said Lamar presented the resolution to Senator Lane.

"Let the record show this man's name is not Lamar, but that he is masquerading under an assumed name," interrupted Senator Bacon.

Train Frozen in Ice Nearly Day.

LaCrosse, Wis., Jan. 30.—Stalled twenty-one hours by a flood, a passenger train on the Reno branch of the Chicago, Milwauke and St. Paul road arrived with 150 half famished passengers aboard. The thermometer fell from 49 to 17 degrees above zero and the train was frozen in the ice. It was held there a day until the water receded, leaving a crust of ice, which was broken by a section crew. The train carried neither a diner nor a sleeper.

GOMPERS DENIES ALL CHARGES

Appears Before Convention of United Mine Workers.

REPLIES TO ATTACK OF MOYER

Says Federation of Labor Is Not "Dead, Fossilized or Reactionary." Executive Council Not Made Up of "Booze Fighters," as Alleged.

Indianapolis, Jan. 30.—In a speech before the convention of the United Mine Workers of America, President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, defended his organization and its executive council against charges made by President Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners, Duncan McDonald of Illinois and others in the convention. Mr. Moyer charged that if the copper strike in Michigan should be lost, it would be due to the inactivity of the executive board of the American Federation of Labor.

Mr. Gompers asserted it would be impossible to levy an assessment for the copper mine strikers of Michigan and denied that the organization is "reactionary, fossilized, worm eaten and dead," and that the executive council is made up of "booze fighters."

After Mr. Gompers had concluded, Mr. McDonald and Mr. Moyer announced they would speak to the convention in the morning.

Hayes Introduces Gompers.

Frank J. Hayes, vice president of the miners, introduced Mr. Gompers.

"Taking the newspaper reports as a criterion," Mr. Gompers began, "the most important work this convention has done has consisted of attacks on the American Federation of Labor and its officers and discussing whether the president's salary shall be increased $1,000 a year. I don't know if the charges in the newspapers are true, but it was printed that it was declared in the convention here that the American Federation of Labor is 'reactionary, fossilized, worm-eaten and dead.' Is the newspaper statement true?"

Amid cheers McDonald said:

"I made the statements and others like them."

"Only McDonald answers," Mr. Gompers continued. "Of the eleven men who compose the executive council, eight are teetotalers, who never touch a drop of liquor. Two of the men are as moderate drinkers as any men who ever take a drink. For myself, I take a glass of beer when the day's work is done. I challenge any man to prove otherwise than that I am as good a man, mentally and physically, as I ever was and I reached my sixty-fourth year last Tuesday.

"Fossilized and dead means the same, but I submit that an organization cannot be these and at the same time reactionary, for that means going backwards. The history of the organization shows that it is not dead."

Denies Policy of Obstruction.

Mr. Gompers denied that the federation had placed obstacles in the path of industrial unionism, but on the contrary, he said, had encouraged it wherever possible and had urged the amalgamation of kindred trades.

"The American Federation of Labor cannot say 'you must amalgamate,'" he continued. "Would the miners obey, if the federation should say 'You must separate?' We have as much authority one way as the other. It is an outrage to lay the failure of industrial unionism to the federation. The men and women in the labor movement are human beings and cannot be moulded in an instant to suit the desires of any one. They must be made to see the advantages of the movement first."

Mr. Gompers detailed in chronological order the steps the executive council had taken to further the strike.

"Not a thing was asked," Mr. Gompers said, "that we did not do, except to levy an assessment, and that was impossible, as it would mean the disintegration of the American Federation of Labor, for the constitution of the organization provides for the expulsion of any union which does not meet the assessments. In the history of the federation only twelve assessments have been levied."

WABASH MAY BE SOLD

Receivership of Road Probably Will Be Raised Soon.

St. Louis, Jan. 30.—Application for the dissolution of the receivership of the Wabash railroad and for a decree of foreclosure was made to Elmer R. Adams, United States circuit judge, here by attorneys representing the bondholders, the Equitable Trust company of New York, trustee, and the receivers.

Judge Adams took the application under advisement. The foreclosure, if it takes place, is to be under a mortgage of $41,929,000 to secure issues of refunding and equipment bonds. Judge Adams intimated that he would announce a final foreclosure decree within ten days.

Lawrence Greer and George Murray, representing the Equitable Trust company of New York city, the largest bondholders of the railroad, submitted to Federal Judge Adams a form of foreclosure decree, which, if granted, will order the sale of the Wabash properties at auction unless the $41,900,000 mortgage held by the Equitable company is paid within five days.

Investment---- Savings

Practically all investments begin with saving.

You must have money to put to work so that it will earn more money.

It has repeatedly been said by successful men, who started in a small way, that the first thousand dollars was the hardest to save—after that it was easier. The interest earned was a great help.

Have you started saving your first thousand dollars?

If not, do it at once. One dollar will start you. Three per cent compound interest will keep it growing.

IS OUR HERITAGE

VIGOROUS, BOUNDING HEALTH OURS, SAYS DR. HUTCHINSON.

EAT WHAT YOU WANT

If Article of Food Does Not Agree With You Leave It Alone—A Domestic Science Lecture.

It was a pleasant, delightful experience to sit for an hour and a half and listen to one of the greatest physicians in the country stand up and declare in every paragraph that it is right food, right living and plenty of fresh air, tons of fresh air in fact, and all the good things to eat you want, that make and keep people well. And pleasanter still was his declaration that all the bad, horrible, bitter things too nasty to eat were made into medicine. And that stuff is supposed to make you well. It doesn't, though. It is something you happen to eat that you want, and which you have been told will kill you if you do eat it, that makes the cure.

Dr. Woods Hutchinson, the lecturer at the First Methodist church Thursday night, says that vigorous, bounding health is our rightful heritage, and that it is ours if we use our own instincts in regard to eating, eat the things we want, and if an article of food does not agree with us leave it alone, but do not conclude it is of no use or value to anyone else and try to cry it down, for that very article of food may be a means of health to some one else.

His lecture was in short a domestic science lecture of a very high order, given in a way that everyone could profit by, whether a student or not. He advocates a food balance regime for the body, and showed up the fallacy that certain foods build up one certain part of the body at the expense of other parts. Good food, in substantial varieties, fresh air and exercise and all the sleep one wants is the whole secret of a perfectly healthy body. An infallible test of what is good food is to throw it in the fire, and if it burns with a bright steady blaze, it is good. Beefsteak and bread will do this, but salads, pickles and meringue stuff will not; they are simply a matter of taste. But follow the things you like to eat and you will not go far wrong. Masticate well and do not eat a thing that does not agree with your sense of smell. There is no danger in following your noses in this respect. And eat plentifully—that is, until you have a comfortable feeling of distention and a sense of resistance, a knowledge that you are refreshed and ready for your work.

Sugar and good candy, and particularly chocolates, were advocated as most wholesome. Let the children have it and eat it yourself, especially when you cannot conveniently eat a meal when you want it. It is the most nourishing article one can take into the stomach at such a time. Sugar has great use in typhoid fever cases, and is now used so generously by many physicians that patients have come through a siege of it with the loss of only five, ten or twelve pounds in weight. Ice cream, butter and good bread came in for recommendation. All soups, he declared, beef tea and all, were nothing but hot water with a smell to it. The plentiful use of sugar and ice cream would destroy the craze for alcohol in time, he said.

The next number in the lecture course will be the Ernest Gambel Concert company on February 23. The company is now in the canal zone giving eighteen concerts for the United States government.

Dr. Clark will be here April 24.

LECTURER HIS FRIEND.

Woods Hutchinson and Fred Jamison Brought Up Together—Had Not Met Before in 35 Years.

At the close of the lecture by Dr. Woods Hutchinson, the noted physician, at the First M. E. church Thursday night, Fred Jamison went to the front among others who went to greet the speaker, and when it came his turn he put out his hand and said:

"You don't know me, do you?"

With a quick look and movement Dr. Hutchinson grasped Mr. Jamison by the hand and laid his other hand on his friend's shoulder and said:

"Yes, I do. You're Jamison. Why, I haven't seen you before in thirty-five years. What are you doing here?"

And they continued their handshaking and smiled and grinned into each other's faces like a couple of boys. And they were boys again in the few moments that followed, and it was a pleasant sight to those who witnessed the meeting.

Woods Hutchinson and Fred Jamison grew up on adjoining farms near Oskaloosa, Ia., after Woods Hutchinson was 10 years old. When he was that age his father came from England with his family and bought the farm next to the Jamison farm. They hunted rabbits together, played ball and went to school together. Woods Hutchinson became one of the foremost physicians in this country, and Fred Jamison came to Nodaway county and is a farmer near Maryville, which is just as good. The Nodaway farmer is raising the very things the doctor told us was fit to eat, and he said we could have all we wanted, too, and there is no limit to the amount the Nodaway farmer can raise of those good things to eat. So there is no real difference between them.

THE GUEST OF MISS HOPE.

Mrs. McDaniel—Stearns of Indianapolis Came Friday and Will Speak Tonight at Christian Church.

Mrs. McDaniel-Stearns of Indianapolis, Ind., who will speak in the First Christian church Friday night, arrived in Maryville Friday noon and is the guest of her former pupil, Miss Fannie Hope of the Normal Training school. Mrs. Stearns was an instructor in the LaBetta county high school of Altamont, Kan., during Miss Hope's high school days there.

Mrs. Stearns' subject tonight will be "The Call of the World." Rev. Finch, pastor of the Maryville church, has heard Mrs. Stearns on this subject and is enthusiastic in his praise. It is acknowledged everywhere Mrs. Stearns has been heard that that she is one of the most eloquent and fascinating women on the public rostrum today.

The message she has for tonight is for everybody, and every woman in town is cordially invited to come and bring her husband or friend with her.

Mrs. Stearns' husband is pastor of the Centenary Christian church of Indianapolis.

VOTE ON SUFFRAGE

MORE THAN HALF OF REQUIRED NAMES SECURED.

COME UP IN NOVEMBER

An Active Campaign Will Be Made in the State, Says Mrs. Walter McNab Miller of Columbia.

What Missouri Will Be Asked to Vote Upon.

The amendment to the Missouri constitution which the women expect to submit to the men of the state by an initiative petition follows.

"Females shall hereafter have the same right under the same conditions to vote at all elections held in this state as males now have or may hereafter have.

Missouri is bounded on the east by Illinois, a woman's suffrage state, and the west by Kansas, another equal suffrage state. It is the hope of the women of the Missouri Equal Suffrage association to make a white strip on the woman's suffrage map from Indiana to Utah.

Mrs. Walter McNab Miller of Columbia is president of the association and the state headquarters are here. Mrs. C. K. Burdick is corresponding secretary. The work of the local organization is directed by these two Columbia women from their room in the Miller building.

Initiative petitions are being circulated in two-thirds of the congressional districts of the state now. More than half of the required 23,000 names have been secured and the women are sure that Missouri will vote on the question of equal suffrage next November.

"Many people have a wrong idea of woman's suffrage," said Mrs. Miller. "Missouri women are not seeking the ballot through any antagonism to man. We feel that the men have had too much to do in the past. We have been asking our husbands to earn the living and at the same time to carry all the burden of public life.

"We are not entering the work as a fad or for gain. Every worker in the organization is voluntary. The number of college women in our association is an example of the type of women who are leading the campaign. We see in the present industrial conditions that some women have too much leisure and others have none at all. It is our hope that we will be able to help make these conditions better. It is our ideal to live in a nation where sweatshops are impossible and child labor unknown."

The women are students of sociology and economics. In their circulating library are books by John Stuart Mill, Jane Addams and other well known writers.

After the initiative petitions have been filed and accepted, a campaign similar to that of a political party will be used. The women will have their county and township chairmen. There will be ward and precinct captains. Speakers will be brought into Missouri from all the other states. There will be automobile tours and booths at all county fairs.—University Missourian.

Barnard to Have Another Bank.

The stockholders of the new bank will meet the first of next week for the purpose of being sworn to the duties of the bank. They appointed a committee of three to locate a place for the bank the last time they met. They decided on the I. O. O. F. building, which was leased for ten years. J. C. Hocker, who came here from California is the promoter of the new bank, and will be the cashier. Mr. Hocker is fully capable of handling the business as he has had years of experience in the bank at Guilford.

The bank will be called the Farmers and Merchants bank, and will open for business on or about March 1.—Barnard Bulletin.

SHOULD SEND BOY

BY NODAWAY COUNTY TO AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

$160 NEEDED TO DO IT

And People Should Respond Heartily—The Democrat-Forum Will Start List With $5—Who's Next?

Nodaway county should be one of the counties in the state to send a poor farmer boy to the agricultural college in Columbia. Such a movement was started recently by the St. Louis Republic, and enough money was raised by that paper to send thirteen boys to the state college. Other counties throughout the state have also followed the suggestion of the Republic and are now raising money for that purpose. Such counties are Boone, Callaway, Audrain and Ripley.

The expense of sending a boy to the agricultural college for a year, according to the Republic's figures, totals $160. This includes tuition and laboratory fees at $35, board $80, and room rent at $45.

In return for this scholarship the boy should agree to remain in the county at least for five years after he had finished his course. This would help stay the exodus which is made every year from different sections of the state.

The boy to be selected might be chosen from among farmers' sons by competition carried on by a committee on lines laid down by the college of agriculture.

As the Republic says. "In the last census decade seventy-two Missouri counties lost population. The only remedy for this threatening movement is better farming. The only way to secure better farming is by training better farmers. And every efficient farmer is the unconscious trainer of a hundred farmers about him."

Nodaway county should finance more than one young man for an educational equipment that will at the end of his course make him a vastly more benefit to his county that several times the dollars that may be subscribed. No extended argument is necessary to convince any citizen or business man that the cause is a worthy one.

What do you think of this better farming movement of educating a boy in the methods of scientific farming who otherwise would not have an opportunity of learning the new way of doing things on the farm?

The Democrat-Forum is willing to receive subscriptions here for such a purpose and will head the list by giving $5. The Commercial club will also favor the proposition, according to several members seen today.

Send in your subscription now, and no sum is too large or too small to donate.

BASKET BALL GAME TONIGHT.

Missouri Wesleyan College Plays the Normal team This Evening at Gymnasium.

Missouri Wesleyan college basket ball team will arrive in Maryville this afternoon for their game this evening. Last night they played in Tarkio and were defeated, 29 to 17. Wesleyan always has a big team and they expect to win this evening.

Maryville will have four of their regular players in the game tonight. Quinn will be out of the game on account of his knee, but it is expected he will be in the game next week. Powell is doing good work at center and will make Quinn hurry for his position at the rate he is now going.

The line-up for Maryville will be Vandersloot, F. Watson, F. Powell, C. Scott, G. McReynolds, G. Miller. Noblett and Gooden will be used in case any changes are made. Hanson of St. Joseph will referee.

Seating accommodations will be provided for 250 people and there is good standing room for over 100 more. The Normal students will all be on the lower floor of the gymnasium and the entire balcony will be turned over to the citizens of Maryville. A large crowd is expected.

MOST FARM HOMES UNFIT.

A Rebuke to Our Civilization, Government Expert Says.

Washington, Jan. 29.—That the average farm home in the United States is a rebuke to America's boasted civilization is the conclusion reached by the farm architect of the department of agriculture as a result of extended investigation of the subject.

In a statement today the department emphasized the importance of an economically constructed and comfortable home for the farmer, the most important feature of which should be the kitchen. Attention is called to the fact that the average farm home has failed to share in the improvement being made in agricultural conditions. Relatively, it is declared, the housewife of a century ago, with her fireplace cooking and log cabin, was better provided for than is the housewife of today.

As a result of the public awakening to the fact that better farm houses are needed the department of agriculture, through its office of farm management, is now investigating this problem systematically and to evolve, if possible, practical improvements for the benefit of the farmer.

Mrs. Rehberg Suit Against Wabash—A Section of the Law in Regard to Baggage.

The case of Mrs. Dorothea Rehburg of Clyde against the Wabash Railroad company for $688.50 damages for the loss of a trunk and telescope and contents, came up in circuit court Friday morning. There were many witnesses in the case from Clyde and vicinity. The trunk and telescope and contents were supposed to have been burned up in the fire that destroyed the Conception Junction depot several months ago.

After the case had started, the attorneys for the railroad company brought up a section of the law of 1913, which states that no railroad or common carrier shall be held liable for $150 damage loss and injury to property carried as baggage unless they have a written receipt stating the value. This point was brought out after Mrs. Rehburg had testified that she had no receipt giving the value of the trunk and contents.

The court then instructed the jury to bring in a verdict for the plaintiff for $150, which was done by a jury composed of Thomas Tobin, M. C. Gray, Walter Campbell, Joe Wallace, Rudolph Lebonia, Charles Talbott, Robert Kinman, John McKee, George Daniels, E. S. Frampton, L. A. Nigh and Charles Eckert.

For the information of the traveling public, the section is as follows:

"Every common carrier and railroad corporation shall be liable for loss, damage and injury to property carried as baggage up to the full value and regardless of the character thereof, but the value in excess of one hundred and fifty dollars shall be stated upon delivery to the carrier, and a written receipt stating the value shall be issued by the carrier, who may make a reasonable charge for the assumption of such liability in excess of one hundred and fifty dollars and for the carriage of baggage exceeding one hundred and fifty pounds in weight upon a single ticket. Nothing in this section shall deprive any holder of such receipt or bill of lading of any remedy or right of action which he has under existing laws."

James Mulholland pleaded guilty to the charge of gaming and was fined $200 and costs, but was paroled by the court for good cause shown upon the payment of $25 of the fine and costs.

In the case of Robert Wachtel vs S. B. Harmon, replevin suit, settled, defendant in open court waives damages on replevin bond and costs paid by the plaintiff.

Charles Still pleaded guilty as to gaming and was fined $25. For good cause shown, he was paroled upon the payment of the costs.

Roy Mayes pleaded guilty as to gaming and was fined $25. Gor good cause shown he was paroled on the payment of the costs.

Ike Weddle, Jr., seven counts, charged with gaming, pleaded guilty and fined $25 on each count. For good cause shown and upon the payment of the fine of $25 in the first case and the costs in each of the seven cases, he was paroled.

The case of the state vs. Sherman Munn on a charge of assault with intent to kill was continued by agreement.

Frank Scull, charged with gaming and running a common gaming house, last charge changed to gaming, pleaded guilty and was fined $200 in each case.

The following other gaming cases came up Friday, each one of them receiving a fine of $25:

C. E. Dilley, Ed Lane, Aiden Owens, Jack Hager, Frank Rasco, Frank Job, Ed Adkins, Frank Crowdes.

In the gaming cases of Roland Pruett, five counts; Ira Gates, seven counts; Jesse Colter, four counts; Roy Reece, three counts; Dale Gates, five counts; Clarence Rhoades, five counts; Mark Adkins, five counts, they were fined $25 on each count. For good cause shown they were all paroled on the payment of the fines in the first cases and the costs in each of the cases. The condition of the parole is not to handling or playing cards, not to drink nor loaf.

KEEP YOUR MIND ALERT.

Remedy for Boredom in Your Hands.

One of the saddest things that can happen to anyone is for him to lose interest; to lose the sense of the adventure of life, to grow blind to its wonders and varieties.

Some people never have the power of being thoroughly interested, even under circumstances the most unusual. And few manage to keep it through what comes to seem the humdrums of ordinary existence. Yet of all the gifts possible for use, there is none that is more certain to make life full and worth while to you than this capacity for keeping interested.

Life itself is never dull; on the contrary, it is always extraordinary. Only we cease to be aware of it. Having eyes we see not, having ears we hear not. We deny our faculty for feeling, our desire for understanding. We do not let our imagination have half the exercises it asks and should have—and then we grumble at the dullness of the world!

There is nothing easier than to allow this apathy to increase. Most of us who are on a regular job have to follow a routine. Yet within even this customary circle of circumstances and events a world of small difference occur—enough to keep us thoroughly interested if we watch for and appreciate them.

The dullard claims that life is no more than a series of meals, a sleep at the end of the day, a tiresome sequence of getting dressed and undressed, of seeing a few people, and speaking the same words in various combinations.

But if your mind is alert and your senses keen life ought to grow more interesting year by year. You become more able to discover all its strangeness as you grow riper, to perceive its odd combinations and unexpected developments.

There is always something new. Keep your eyes open for it. And remember, if you find yourself getting easily bored, that the fault is entirely your own. Make an effort at once to escape. Take up a new line of thought, a new study or duty or amusement. One girl I know, feeling herself "growing dopy" as she expressed it, happened to come across Maeterlinck's "Life of the Bee." She lived in the suburbs, and had a tiny garden attached to the house. So she provided herself with a hive of bees, and set to work to study them during her off time. They proved intensely interesting; she soon found herself subscribing for bee magazines, and she had entered a whole new world of interest through the tiny doorway of the hive because she refused to shut herself up in the prison of boredom. And there is no limit to the number of such doors that are open to us, ready at our least touch, if only we are willing to exert it.

Refuse to grow dull—it is far worse than growing old, and the remedy is in your own hands.—Selected.

In reply to Mr. Thomas J. Tallon in The Democrat-Forum of January 28, I wish to state a few facts gathered from various sections of the United States which may serve to convince the reader that Mr. Tallon does not base his reasoning on real facts and conditions as they exist. First, consolidation means equal rights to all.

In the early days the country school and teacher was equal in every way to the town school, but conditions have changed to such an extent that the present conditions in the country are a disgrace to the twentieth century.

Small schools that now exist not only waste the people's money but the children's time. In communities where consolidation has prevailed, attendance has increased from 55 per cent to 97 per cent. Consolidation is not a fad, but the only solution.

Massachusetts passed a consolidation law in 1865, and twelve Concord schools united in 1870-80.

Thirty-two states and Hawaii, Canada and Australia have consolidation. It has been thoroughly tried and has proven more than satisfactory. It has, wherever tried, resulted in economy, better, supervision, attendance, punctuality, school spirit and better roads, literary organizations and local enterprises.

Land has uniformly advanced from 50 to 200 per cent in value wherever adopted. Maine abandoned 653 small schools in 1890. Vermont transferred 800 children. All over the middle west the sentiment is growing stronger every day. It is the only way to educate suitable to the present age. Ohio has twenty-one consolidated schools in one county and 157 in the state. Indiana transports 20,000 children each year. Michigan had ten consolidated schools in 1908. Iowa has thirty. Minnesota, North Dakota, Kansas and Oklahoma are making wonderful advances. Virginia had 162 consolidated schools in 1908.

Without exception the greatest educators in the United States are strongly endorsing the idea of bringing the children together in numbers sufficient to insure perfect graduation and placing them under the care of professionally trained men and women, who will do the same high class of teaching that is prevalent in the city schools. It will result in more rapid progress, better lessons, more pleasant surroundings, better sanitation, a more extended course.

Sentiment, as objections, must finally yield to economic advantages.

Statistics from the many states that have tried consolidation prove that it saves the people money—that the individual cost per pupil is much less than under the present system.

A very large per cent of the present country schools are so poorly instructed that they had as well be abandoned as continued. In the face of all the argument that floods the country in favor of consolidation, it seems evident that all who have the interest of the country children at heart would do everything to create a sentiment favoring better schools and better teaching.

Then and not until then will come a bright dawn for the youth of the farm.

J. P. CUMMINGS.

To the Voters of the Proposed Consolidated Districts.

On Saturday, January 24, in the court house yard, in the presence of Reuben Young and Thomas F. Tallon, the Rev. Green of the Harmony church promised me that I would be allowed to present to the voters our side of the consolidation of schools on the same night that the state superintendent of schools was to speak there, January 28. I was there on that date prepared to present our side of the question to the best of my ability, and was turned down flat and refused any chance to speak against consolidation. This is about on a par with the treatment that section 18 has received all through this controversy. We have been set out from the rest of the district, our new school house taken from us, eight children in this section forced to go from three-fourths to a mile farther to school than they have at present. And further, the voters of section 18 are disfranchised from saying anything about what shall become of the property they have paid taxes to build and support.

Now is this honest? Is this justice? Is this right between man and man?

If it is, go and vote for consolidation; if not, vote against it.

Let the Casteel district alone. We are able to take care of ourselves. If our district could vote by itself there would be three votes against to one for. If you want those for consolidation, take them and let the rest of the district alone.

Yours for right and justice,
FRED L. ARMSTRONG.

To the Voters of Harmony.

My attention was drawn to an article in The Democrat-Forum in which it was stated that the community of Harmony is to vote on consolidation of schools next Monday, and that the districts that are in the proposed move for consolidation are Excelsior, Champaign, Wilcox, Casteel, Moore, and one-half of Hickory Hill. This gives the impression that the Casteel school district had all been taken into the proposed consolidated district, which is not correct, as boosters for consolidation would have you believe. Here is the actual state of affairs in the Casteel district: The boosters for consolidation have taken into the proposed new district about four-fifths of this district, including the school house, and there are eight children of school age in the territory they have taken in. The remaining one-fifth, which is section 18, has eleven children of school age, and was left out as undesirable territory, and they say that, according to the law, the parents of those eleven children have no voice in this matter; or in other words they say we are going to take your school away from your children and you can't help yourself. Now, I wish to appeal to the voters of Harmony community in behalf of those helpless children who cannot defend themselves against this injustice. In other words, will you not say with your vote that those children have just the same right to their school that your own children have? Will you not say with that ballot which you are going to cast on the 2nd day of February, do unto others as you would have others do unto you. All I ask for those helpless children is justice. THOMAS F. TALLON.

HYOMEI SOOTHES, PURIFIES, HEALS CATARRH ILLS

When you have that choked and stuffed up feeling in the morning, crusts in the nose, raising of mucous, droppings in the throat, and offensive breath, you are affected with catarrh. Immediate steps should be taken to stop the disease or it will become chronic and serious.

By all means use Hyomei. Money refunded by the Orear-Henry Drug Co. if not satisfied. It is a medicated air treatment that does not drug and derange the stomach, but is breathed in through the Hyomei inhaler that comes with every $1.00 outfit. It effectively destroys the catarrh germs and quickly soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane of the nose and throat.

Get a complete outfit now and be cured of catarrh.

Sang in Convention Events.

Miss Besse Scott returned Friday noon from Kansas City, where she was the guest of friends at the lumbermen's convention. She sang two numbers in the Wednesday morning session of the convention, "Mavourneen," an Irish love song, by L. Lemon, and "Goodbye Summer," by Frank Lyons. On Thursday afternoon Miss Scott sang at a reception at the Baltimore hotel, given by the ladies of the convention. Her numbers were "A Perfect Day," by Carrie Jacobs-Bond, and "Sympathy," from the opera "Firefly." At the Orpheum theater Thursday evening Miss Scott was a member of one of the box parties given by the lumbermen for their wives and friends.

AFTER FIVE YEARS

Winthrop Child Was Restored to Health by Vinol.

"Five years ago our little girl had a severe attack of diphtheria which left her subject to bronchitis and stomach trouble. She has been almost constantly under medical treatment. I have tried also two or three remedies containing cod liver oil but found her stomach rebelled against the oil. Reading your description of Vinol I decided to try it and did so with most astonishing results. I cannot begin to tell you how she has improved because you do not know what a little sufferer she was for five years. She has gained ten pounds since she commenced to take Vinol, and the story of what Vinol has done for her is only half told in this letter."—Mrs. Adelaide Mulloy, Winthrop, Mass.

Vinol contains all the healing curative properties of cod liver oil, without the oil, and tonic iron added. That is why it helped this little girl after other remedies had failed.

We ask mothers of weak, sickly children to try Vinol on our offer to give back your money if it fails to help them. Orear-Henry Drug Co., Maryville, Mo.—Advertisement.

Stole Chickens.

Some time last Friday night a chicken thief stole a bunch of chickens from Judd Henry, north of Sweet Home. The thief brought the chickens to Ravenwood in a coop and sold them to the J. C. Peterson poultry house, during Mr. Peterson's absence. Virgil Moore, who was working there at the time, weighed the chickens and made out a check for $13.49 to the man, who gave his name as Dan McCroy. Mr. Henry missing his chickens, came in and found them at the poultry house still in the same coop that they had been brought in. Mr. Peterson being satisfied that they were the same chickens stolen from Mr. Henry, gave them back to him. All efforts to catch the thief so far have been in vain.—Ravenwood Gazette.

CHILDREN HATE OIL, CALOMEL AND PILLS

"California Syrup of Figs" Best for Tender Stomach, Liver, Bowels —Tastes Delicious.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Advertisement.

Making Fence Posts Last.

Does it pay to treat fence posts with a preservative in order to make them last longer? Is it possible to treat cottonwood, elm, sycamore or basswood posts so that they will last as long as a good white oak or black locust post does without treatment? The Missouri college of agriculture has started an experiment which will help to answer these questions.

On November 20, 1913, the forestry department set the last of 533 posts representing 27 different kinds of wood. The posts were set two feet apart on a level piece of land, where soil and moisture conditions are the same for all. Posts of each species of wood were handled in seven different ways. Some were set in the ordinary way without treatment of any kind. These will serve as a check. Some were set in gravel, so as to test the benefit, if any, from having better drainage around the post. Others had the lower three feet charred. Another series were given two brush coats of hot creosote, spreading it over the lower three feet. A fifth series was given on brush coat of hot carbolineum. The sixth series was treated with creosote by the open tank method described in circular 51 of the experiment station. The same method was followed with the seventh series, except that the posts were soaked in creosote for two and one-half hours in each bath.

So the long distance race is on! Missouri farmers will be interested in watching this test of endurance.

The Democrat-Forum at Maryville was badly informed about the basket ball games that took place here on last Friday evening. They said that the Graham boys won the game 50 to 35, when it was just the reverse. They also said that the ex-normal team played the first team here and won the game. It was the second team here that played the ex-normals, and the latter won the game. Don't put anything up against Guilford if you don't want to get beat.—Guilford Times.

MANY IN ATTENDANCE.

Funeral Services for Mrs. Chester Bennett Held Thursday Afternoon at the First M. E. Church.

The First M. E. church was filled Thursday afternoon with friends and acquaintances of the late Mrs. Chester Bennett, who in deep sorrow gathered to attend her funeral services.

The services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Gilbert S. Cox, who used the text as found in I Cor. 13:12. "For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then, face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known." The sermon was full of comfort to all, for it led all to trust in the providences of God that seem dark and ipscrutible, for it is safe to trust one who does all things well; whose ways are higher than our ways, and His thoughts than our thoughts.

Mrs. F. P. Robinson sang "Some Day We'll Understand." A quartet composed of Mrs. Robinson, Miss Ada Clayton, John Mutz and G. Matter, sang "Rock of Ages" and "Abide With Me."

The floral offerings were so many that the beautiful young wife and mother appeared to be lying in a bed of flowers. The flower girls were Miss Marie Brink, Miss Lavera Condon and Mrs. Dale Bellows.

Burial took place in Miriam cemetery. The pall bearers were Frank M. Reavis, John Mutz, Dale Bellows, Fred Lewis, L. B. Tracey and Lieber Holmes.

The Royal Neighbors and Hum Drum club, of which Mrs. Bennett's mother, Mrs. Harry Shipps, and sister, Miss Blanche Shipps, are members, attended the services in a body.

The out-of-town relatives and friends attending the services were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fritchman of Rosendale, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Fritchman and Mr. and Mrs. Clay Fritchman of Savannah; Warner Wood of Bolckow, Mrs. Charles Shipps of Arkoe, Mrs. F. H. Badger of Barnard, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Smith, Misses Golda and Louise Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Langhein and Neal Bayne of St. Joseph, Mrs. Ed Housman of Rosendale.

Bernice Shipps Bennett was born on a farm in Nodaway county, twelve miles from Maryville, December 9, 1890, making her a little past 23 years of age. When she was 12 years old she came with her parents to Maryville to make her home. She graduated from the Maryville high school with the mid-winter class of 1909. She taught two terms of school in the High Prairie district, near Elmo and on the 25th day of May, 1911, was married to Chester Bennett, with the Acetylene Light company of this city.

Mrs. Bennett had been a constant worker and member of the First Christian church in Bible school and Endeavor since childhood, and for six years had been pipe organist for the Endeavor and Bible school, and her whole life was in harmony with her profession as a Christian. The expression of her face was calm and serene, the "outward sign of inward grace," and after the coming of her baby daughter her spiritual life seemed renewed and all her thought was toward the rearing of her child in right ways. As soon as the baby was old enough to be taken to Sunday school she affiliated with the First M. E. church, last September, to be with her husband, that their child should not come up in a divided household. She continued her work as organist faithfully with the church of her childhood until the Sunday before her new relation began. She began at once to take a place in all the work of the First M. E. church, uniting with the Young Ladies' Missionary society and enrolling in the Sunday school. She was a true follower of the Master, and was ready to work in whatever field she was called to go.

Her illness came suddenly. All that medical aid could do for her was done. But the disease of uremic poisoning had gained too much headway for medicine to successfully combat. Pneumonia set in twenty-four hours before death, completely overthrowing her chances for recovery.

The sympathy of the entire community is with her husband and ten-months-old daughter, Virginia Katherine, her parents, sisters and brother in their loss.

Predicted to Be President.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Monroe of Hopkins announce the birth of a son Monday, January 26. The young man has been named James Harbine, and while he resembles his mother's people, the Wray family, he already begins to show the disposition of his father.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe are receiving the hearty congratulations of their friends, and of course there are numerous predictions as to the young man's future. Some are prophecying he will be a Methodist preacher, others that he will be either a banker or postmaster, while we are predicting that the next Democratic president will be in 1964, and it will be James H. Monroe of Missouri.

SHERLEY ASSAILS ANNUAL WAR SCARE

Kentuckian Opens Debate on Fortifications Bill in House.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Representative Sherley of Kentucky, in presenting the fortifications bill to the house for general debate, assailed representations of the unpreparedness for war and "the annual war scare."

Mr. Sherley referred particularly to Rear Admiral Vreeland's opinion given to the naval affairs committee that the United States was not in a position to defend the Philippines.

"I can assure the house that our fortifications are in no such condition of unpreparedness as to cause alarm," said Mr. Sherley. "As to the Philippines, the island of Corregidor, commanding the entrance to Manila bay, has been completely and strongly fortified and it is in a position to withstand attack for six months without assistance from the outside."

Mr. Sherley referred to field artillery ammunition, for which the war department has demanded larger appropriations.

"If we contemplated taking the field in a war that would require an army of 500,000 within the next year or two," said he, "then the appropriation of $90,000 for field artillery ammunition in this bill is not sufficient. It should be several millions. But if we don't expect a great war for five or ten years, then the present provision is ample and generous."

YOUNG WOMAN SAVES TRAIN

Dora Shafer Prevents Passenger From Plunge Through Bridge.

Greeley, Colo., Jan. 30.—Damage estimated at $200,000 was done by the breaking of the dam of the Horse creek reservoir, sending a flood of water over the flats, inundating a strip of land ten miles long by three miles wide, and a torrent down Box Elder creek.

The quick action of Dora Shafer saved a Burlington train from plunging through a weakened bridge. She telephoned to Hudson and the train was flagged.

BANK HEARING AT SEATTLE

Not Enough Capital on Upper Pacific Slope for Regional Bank.

Seattle, Jan. 30.—A question repeatedly asked by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo of witnesses before the regional reserve board, who urged the formation in either Seattle or Spokane of a Pacific northwest regional reserve bank, to cover the states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana, was: "How will you get around the fact that the district you have laid out here will not provide the requisite amount of capital required by the currency bill?"

The law, as interpreted by Secretary McAdoo and Secretary Houston, provides that each bank in the district shall subscribe 6 per cent of its capital stock toward the capital of the regional reserve bank. Six per cent of the total capital of the national banks of the four states named amounts to $2,500,000, whereas the law fixes a minimum of $4,000,000 for the company of each regional bank.

An offer of leading Seattle bankers to subscribe a large block of capital stock was rejected by the secretaries, who said that state banks could not subscribe to the capital stock so long as they were under disabilities imposed by state laws.

Chicago Buys Garbage Reduction Plant

Chicago, Jan. 30.—This city, which has been dumping its hundreds of tons of garbage into clay pits all winter and trying various experiments in treating it with acids, bought the garbage reduction plant which formerly handled the refuse by private contract. The property was acquired by condemnation for $275,000.

Taggart Not Candidate for Senate.

Indianapolis, Jan. 30.—After two days of conferences with political leaders, Thomas Taggart, Indiana's member of the Democratic national committee, issued a statement that he would not be a candidate for the United States senate. Mr. Taggart said he would support Senator Shively for re-election.

MR. STORK LED GRIM REAPER.

Figures Show Births in Missouri for Last Quarter of 1913 Were More Than the Deaths.

According to statistics compiled by U. A. McBride, chief statistician of the bureau of vital statistics of the state board of health for the quarter including the months of October, November and December, there was a total of 9,914 deaths, of which 5,422 were males, 4,492 females, 9,104 white and 810 black. The births show a falling off of 147 as compared with the preceding quarter, while there is a decrease in deaths of 296.

There was a total of 19,326 births in the state for the quarter; 9,988 were males and 9,412 females. It will be noted there were 9,412 more births than death for the period, indicating that "Mr. Stork" is keeping well advanced of the grim reaper.

CANADA.

If you have a desire to be independent and own your own farm, you can do so for less yearly payment than you are paying rent in Missouri.

If you wish to make a good investment, Canada holds a better opportunity open to you than you will find in any undeveloped country in the world today.

Our first excursion to see this wonderful country will be some time in April, and our rates as low as can be procured. We will show you land in Saskatchewan and Eastern Alberta, priced from $12.00 to $25.00 per acre, convenient to railroads and good markets. Land that will give wonderful returns for the amount invested, and the terms cannot fail to please you.

This is an opportunity that you cannot afford to miss as we will see the best parts of Canada.

Write us or come in and have a talk about this wonderful country of big returns, where a man with small capital can become independent in a few years.

NODAWAY COUNTY FARMS.

We have farms of from 40 to 300 acres, ranging in price from $75.00 to $175.00 per acre, some of which are well improved and well located close to Maryville. If sold soon can give possession March 1st, 1914.

CITY PROPERTY.

We have the H. K. Taylor and other residence properties and some good bargains in modern residences with small acreage, close in.

Printed on the front of every official time table which goes to Wabash employes are two large circles, "SAFETY ALWAYS." Printed on the back of every official time table are these words: "SAFETY should be the first consideration of every employe." It is a constant admonition to every Wabash trainman, for the protection of every Wabash traveler. Beginning with the human factor, the Wabash surrounds its travelers with every mechanical safeguard known to modern railroadism: Steel equipment; automatic electric block signals; miles of double track; heavy rails and substantial roadbed; telephone dispatching, etc.

WILSON WARNS THE NEWSPAPERS

Deplores Unwarranted Speculation on Foreign Subjects.

Washington, Jan. 30.—In outlining the status of those problems of American diplomacy which have been brought to public attention by his recent conference with the senate committee on foreign relations, President Wilson reiterated with emphasis that no crisis was at hand in any of the questions he had discussed unless the Mexican situation could be construed as in the nature of perpetual crisis, fraught always with the possibility of sudden change or unexpected developments.

In divulging some of the more important facts concerning American foreign policy the president sounded a warning against unwarranted speculation in the press on foreign questions, indicating that governments frequently were embarrassed by unfounded reports.

The administration's Mexican policy for the present would be one of watchful waiting was reiterated by President Wilson. No prediction was made as to when the lifting of the embargo on arms might occur.

It was conceded at the White House that the practical operation of the embargo had been to deny munitions to the constitutionalists from their only external source of supply, while the Huerta government has been buying abroad.

The president has pointed out that while nations generally were showing a friendly spirit and doing all they could to prevent assistance to the Huerta regime, foreign governments could not legally stop shipments of arms. Special legislation would be required.

TRUST POLICY IS UNDER FIRE

Republican Senators Rap "Beneficent Sunshine" Program.

CUMMINS IS DISCOURAGED.

Bristow Declares Stock of Corporations Is Rising Continually While Gentle Process of Dealing With Them Is Being Inaugurated.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The trust policy of the Democratic administration was characterized by Republicans during debate in the senate as "beneficent sunshine," enhancing the stock of corporations. The policy of amicable agreements with accused corporations also was criticised by minority speakers.

While hearings on the pending anti-trust bills were under way before the house judiciary committee, Senator Martine (N. J.) interjected into a senate discussion on agricultural extension the announcement that there existed in the United States an oatmeal trust. Senator Cummins (Ia.), admitting that such a trust probably did exist, asked the New Jersey senator if any proceedings were pending to punish the officers of the combine.

"I do not know whether there are any immediate steps being taken to prosecute," Senator Martine replied, "but I do know it is part of the policy of the Democratic party to go for the trusts, and we will go for them, dealing with them fairly, honestly and justly, but not tenderly nor kindly."

Cummins Discouraged.

"I hope it is the plan of the Democratic party to destroy monopoly," Senator Cummins rejoined, "but I must confess that the plan is being carried out with a deliberateness that discourages me. I hope we shall speedily reach the oatmeal trust where it can be dealt with. We are going very slowly, however, and I have no great confidence in the effort to readjust industrial conditions in the administrative offices of the government.

"There is but one way to punish a man for having violated the law and that is to bring him before the bar of a court and, finding him guilty, punish him. I have not much faith in these preliminary negotiations and these quiet adjustments that seem to have been favored not only in a former administration, but in this one as well."

Senator McCumber said that all he could learn of the Democratic trust policy was from the newspapers, which announced that the trusts were to be gone after, but that the party "is dealing gently, going very quietly and telling the trusts to have no fear of being hurt."

"While this gentle process of dealing with trusts is being inaugurated," remarked Senator Bristow (Kan.), "the stock of these corporations is continually rising under this beneficent sunshine of the present trust policy."

LANE ATTACKS REPORT

Green and Lamar Get Into Debate in the Senate.

Washington, Jan. 30.—David Lamar got into the senate debate again and was openly referred to by Senator Newlands as "the wolf of Wall street." Senator Lane was criticising Mr. Newlands' committee for refusing to hear testimony by William H. Green of Creighton, Neb., on his resolution to inquire whether the United States Steel corporation had received illegal rebates from railroads.

The committee, when it developed that Green refused to testify unless he could name a certain attorney to make the investigation, amended Mr. Lane's resolution for transmission to Attorney General McReynolds and the interstate commerce commission merely for information.

Senator Lane attacked the committee's report as partial and incomplete and declared the system of executive sessions furnished "legislative rat holes down which the rights of the people disappear." Mr. Newlands quoted Green as having said Lamar presented the resolution to Senator Lane.

"Let the record show this man's name is not Lamar, but that he is masquerading under an assumed name," interrupted Senator Bacon.

Train Frozen in Ice Nearly Day.

LaCrosse, Wis., Jan. 30.—Stalled twenty-one hours by a flood, a passenger train on the Reno branch of the Chicago, Milwauke and St. Paul road arrived with 150 half famished passengers aboard. The thermometer fell from 49 to 17 degrees above zero and the train was frozen in the ice. It was held there a day until the water receded, leaving a crust of ice, which was broken by a section crew. The train carried neither a diner nor a sleeper.

GOMPERS DENIES ALL CHARGES

Appears Before Convention of United Mine Workers.

REPLIES TO ATTACK OF MOYER

Says Federation of Labor Is Not "Dead, Fossilized or Reactionary." Executive Council Not Made Up of "Booze Fighters," as Alleged.

Indianapolis, Jan. 30.—In a speech before the convention of the United Mine Workers of America, President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, defended his organization and its executive council against charges made by President Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners, Duncan McDonald of Illinois and others in the convention. Mr. Moyer charged that if the copper strike in Michigan should be lost, it would be due to the inactivity of the executive board of the American Federation of Labor.

Mr. Gompers asserted it would be impossible to levy an assessment for the copper mine strikers of Michigan and denied that the organization is "reactionary, fossilized, worm eaten and dead," and that the executive council is made up of "booze fighters."

After Mr. Gompers had concluded, Mr. McDonald and Mr. Moyer announced they would speak to the convention in the morning.

Hayes Introduces Gompers.

Frank J. Hayes, vice president of the miners, introduced Mr. Gompers.

"Taking the newspaper reports as a criterion," Mr. Gompers began, "the most important work this convention has done has consisted of attacks on the American Federation of Labor and its officers and discussing whether the president's salary shall be increased $1,000 a year. I don't know if the charges in the newspapers are true, but it was printed that it was declared in the convention here that the American Federation of Labor is 'reactionary, fossilized, worm-eaten and dead.' Is the newspaper statement true?"

Amid cheers McDonald said:

"I made the statements and others like them."

"Only McDonald answers," Mr. Gompers continued. "Of the eleven men who compose the executive council, eight are teetotalers, who never touch a drop of liquor. Two of the men are as moderate drinkers as any men who ever take a drink. For myself, I take a glass of beer when the day's work is done. I challenge any man to prove otherwise than that I am as good a man, mentally and physically, as I ever was and I reached my sixty-fourth year last Tuesday.

"Fossilized and dead means the same, but I submit that an organization cannot be these and at the same time reactionary, for that means going backwards. The history of the organization shows that it is not dead."

Denies Policy of Obstruction.

Mr. Gompers denied that the federation had placed obstacles in the path of industrial unionism, but on the contrary, he said, had encouraged it wherever possible and had urged the amalgamation of kindred trades.

"The American Federation of Labor cannot say 'you must amalgamate,'" he continued. "Would the miners obey, if the federation should say 'You must separate?' We have as much authority one way as the other. It is an outrage to lay the failure of industrial unionism to the federation. The men and women in the labor movement are human beings and cannot be moulded in an instant to suit the desires of any one. They must be made to see the advantages of the movement first."

Mr. Gompers detailed in chronological order the steps the executive council had taken to further the strike.

"Not a thing was asked," Mr. Gompers said, "that we did not do, except to levy an assessment, and that was impossible, as it would mean the disintegration of the American Federation of Labor, for the constitution of the organization provides for the expulsion of any union which does not meet the assessments. In the history of the federation only twelve assessments have been levied."

WABASH MAY BE SOLD

Receivership of Road Probably Will Be Raised Soon.

St. Louis, Jan. 30.—Application for the dissolution of the receivership of the Wabash railroad and for a decree of foreclosure was made to Elmer R. Adams, United States circuit judge, here by attorneys representing the bondholders, the Equitable Trust company of New York, trustee, and the receivers.

Judge Adams took the application under advisement. The foreclosure, if it takes place, is to be under a mortgage of $41,929,000 to secure issues of refunding and equipment bonds. Judge Adams intimated that he would announce a final foreclosure decree within ten days.

Lawrence Greer and George Murray, representing the Equitable Trust company of New York city, the largest bondholders of the railroad, submitted to Federal Judge Adams a form of foreclosure decree, which, if granted, will order the sale of the Wabash properties at auction unless the $41,900,000 mortgage held by the Equitable company is paid within five days.

Investment---- Savings

Practically all investments begin with saving.

You must have money to put to work so that it will earn more money.

It has repeatedly been said by successful men, who started in a small way, that the first thousand dollars was the hardest to save—after that it was easier. The interest earned was a great help.

Have you started saving your first thousand dollars?

If not, do it at once. One dollar will start you. Three per cent compound interest will keep it growing.
